Another Syrian-Kurdish recruit dead

The family of the recruit Sadik Hossein Mousa born October 12th, 2009 was informed about the death of their son according to the Syrian Human Rights Organization MAF. Sadik Hossein Mousa was completing his military service in the Syrian army. The Syrian authorities declared that the recruit died in a traffic accident outside of the military service.

In the meantime three other persons died during military service. On October 11th, 2009 the relatives of Sohnes Rizan Abduhl Al Karim Mirana born in the Village of Telyona in the district

Direk/Alhasak were informed about his death. The Syrian authorities also here declared that the recruit died in a traffic accident. The recruits Firas Badri Habib born 1988 in Bulbil in the district of Afrin had suffered the same fate according to the Syrian authorities. Firas Badri Habib died during military service on September 9th 2009. On September 30th, 2009 the recruit Suliman Ahmad Faruk Diko born in the Village of Kassem in the Rajo district during his military service in the Syrian army. His dead body was handed over to his family. A relative informed MAF that the authorities declared that the Suliman Ahmad Faruk Diko died of a heart attack during training time.

The death accidents of Kurds during military service in the Syrian army amount to 30 persons. Many human rights organisations are concerned about the grown number of young Kurdish recruits dying during military service. The responsible Syrian authorities are covering the true cause of death. Their typical explanations are suicide, cause of accident or death by misbehaviour. Investigations to find out about the real causes of death and to sue the responsible persons haven't been held until now.

Kurdish Family disappears after deportation from Germany to Syria

The Syrian human rights organisation MAF reported about the deportation to Syria of a Kurdish family (Mother Schaicha Jindo and her four children Fatima, Ased, Walid, and Imad) by a German authority on September 8th, 2009. The family applied for political asylum. The family was arrested and deported from Frankfurt am Main to Syria on the same day. The family disappeared since its deportation. Relatives and other family members do also not know about their whereabouts.

According to MAF two of the family members were not present during the arrestment night. The brothers Hasan and Hussein are on the run in Germany fearing the same fate as their other family members.
